A LOOK BACK: 2020 REVIEW

The year 2020 has been like no other. We have not experienced a pandemic such as COVID-19 in this country for over a hundred years. Yet, when challenged, Houstonians stood up—they kept themselves and their families safe and they reached out to help others in many ways. That's why I love this city. And even in the worst of times, my administration has moved forward with initiatives to assist our neighborhoods, fix our streets, improve our climate and more.
